

Biography

Jane Bastock

Jane Bastock is currently the Crime Reduction Officer at Winchester BID. She has held this position for nearly four years. Prior to this she worked for over thirty years for Hampshire Constabulary as a Police Officer. She served all over Hampshire in both uniform and CID roles, and spent the last four years of her service as a Detective Inspector in Winchester. This provided her with both an insight into the city, its heritage, and a good working knowledge of the area.

Jane is keen to enhance her skillset particularly around the governance and management aspects of the BID. She felt that studying for this qualification would assist in her understanding, whilst also providing her with the opportunity to meet other people operating in different areas of the country undertaking a variety of BID roles.

Jane is married with three grown up children.
